So take a moment, imagine your guests gathered beneath the beams, the laughter, the music and the emotion. Allow us to bring it all to life, effortlessly and just as you imagined.

My husband and I got married at the Great Tythe Barn and everything was absolutely amazing! It was the first venue we viewed, the barn was stunning, the gardens and grounds were beautiful. The Tythe House, Cottages and Tythe Lodge rooms were all lovely. It was a real bonus having everything on site, so we didn't have to make arrangements or travel to our accommodation. The staff were fabulous - friendly, efficient, enthusiastic and kind. Nothing was too much trouble, and they had no problems helping us with some last minute changes on the day, making sure everything ran smoothly. They also helped us to coordinate all of our suppliers, so we could just relax and enjoy the day. We had so many compliments from our guests about how great the wedding and venue was, everyone had a fantastic time. Would definitely recommend as a wonderful wedding venue!

We got married at The Great Tythe Barn in June 2025 and we could not have had a more perfect day! The planning process with the team, especially Meg and Tracey the manager was so easy from start to finish. We stayed in the Tythe House the night before, it really is the perfect venue for a two-day celebration and to have everything on site. The recent renovations were just the icing on the cake!!

Our Story becomes part of yours

Long before vows were first spoken beneath its beams, Great Tythe Barn echoed with a different kind of purpose. Built in the 17th century as a Tythe barn (a place where local farmers offered a tenth of their harvest, known as a Tythe, to the church) it stood as a symbol of faith, community, and tradition.

Over the centuries, the usage of the buildings may have changed, yet their character has remained.

The stone walls and oak timbers have weathered time, witnessing generations of stories unfold. Today, the barn stands, beautifully restored, a bridge between the past and current celebrations.

Exposed stone, sweeping beams and the play of light through ancient architecture now form the backdrop for creating memories. A space that was once built for utility now inspires romance.

It's size and lovingly maintained medieval structure create a sense of awe rarely found in wedding venues.

Family is at the heart of every wedding day and it is also at the heart of Great Tythe Barn. We are proud to run a second-generation family-run venue where families and a professional team work side by side to create your special day.

Every new celebration at the Great Tythe Barn becomes part of our story and we would be honoured to become a part of yours.

Our sincerest thanks go to all the couples featured and our creative partners for being a big part in this chapter of our story:
